- the inimitable treasure
of BULGARI Hotel Paris

Located on the Avenue George V in the 'Golden Triangle', home to the French capital's luxury and fashion excellence between the Seine and the Champs-Élysées, the Bulgari Hotel Paris is a new kind of hotel experience where Italian hospitality meets the jewelry heritage of Bulgari and the glorious history of the City of Light.

The interiors of the hotel, entirely designed by Antonio Citterio Patricia Viel Italian architectural studio, feature 76 rooms and suites, including the Bulgari Penthouse, an exceptional private apartment of nearly 400 square meters with its own 569 square meter panoramic roof garden with views of all the capital's iconic monuments. The building and the façade of the Bulgari Hotel Paris have been designed and restyled by Antonio Citterio Patricia Viel in collaboration with the French architectural firm Valode & Pistre.

The inimitable treasure of Bvlgari Hotel Paris is the 400-square-meter Penthouse complete with 600 square meters of terraces and gardens. Occupying the top two floors of the hotel, it offers a total area of nearly 1,000 square meters on two levels connected by a spectacular staircase, and gives guests a spectacular 360° view of Paris' most iconic monuments.

The Eiffel Tower, Sacré Coeur and Grand Palais feel as if they are within arm's reach from this glass-enclosed jewel. Its soaring dining room is layered with antique Altai carpet and lit by a sparkling glass and gold chandelier. It has two kitchens, its own bar, a very large bedroom that looks onto the Eiffel Tower, a bathroom entirely clad in book matched Arabescato marble, an adjoining private fitness room, a hammam, a pantry, a living room and dressing room.

High above the intersection of the Avenue George V and Rue Pierre Charron, the majestic terrace is set against the backdrop of Paris' timeless rooftops. Oaks, magnolias and philadelphus sit next to redcurrant bushes, apple trees and pear trees, giving the space the feel of Provence in the center of Paris' Golden Triangle.
